THE hod carriers of Covington, Ky., struck for three dollars per day on Tuesday, and obtained their demand.

A LITTLE daughter of Joseph Mayo, of Chicago, died from hydrophobia on the 22d inst. She had been bitten by a dog several months ago.

IT IS ANNOUNCED that the filibustering schemes against Mexico, which have occupied considerable attention in the Gulf States, have been abandoned.

A REPUBLICAN State Convention of Wisconsin for the nomination of candidates for State officer is called to meet at Madison on the 4th of September next.

THE statement of General Ould, over his own signature, that in August, 1864, he offered, as Confederate Commissioner, to deliver up, without equivalent, ten or fifteen thousand sick or wounded Union prisoners, is attracting attention. Ultimately all the facts will come out.

THE western cities have been flooded with counterfeit nickel five cent pieces. At Cincinnati a party has been arrested, having nearly a bushel of the spurious coin in their possession, together with the necessary implements for its manufacture.

ONE REPORT says the President is inclined to send Gen. Banks on a mission through the Southern States to hurry up reconstruction. The best thing the President can do in that behalf, is to see that the laws are duly enforced. If he had taken that course from the start, reconstruction would now be much farther advanced than it is.

THE Soldiers' Messenger Dispatch Company, incorporated last April by the New York Legislature, to furnish employment, as far as practicable, to worthy disabled soldiers, and orphan sons of soldiers who lost their lives or became disabled while serving in the volunteer army of the United States, in regiments raised in and accredited to the State of New York, has just gone into operation under most favorable auspices.

NEARLY every day we find in our exchanges accounts of fearful accidents and loss of life resulting from the careless handling, by females, of coal oil. It is about time that housekeepers should learn to be more cautious with the fluid, as there certainly has been a sufficient number of casualties recorded to demonstrate its dangerous qualities. At Cincinnati, a night or two since, a Mrs. Herke was burned to death in attempting to fill a burning lamp with fresh oil. Perhaps a hundred have lost their lives during the past few years in endeavoring to do the same thing.

THE State of New York is owner of a system of canals, which have cost vast sums of money. Upon these canals an immense business has steadily been transacted. Yet the aggregate income has barely sufficed to keep all the lines in condition for successful use; while some of them have constantly failed even to make good the cost of superintendence and repairs. The current belief has been strong that gigantic frauds have been practiced in the management of these works. A Senate Investigating Committee has been looking into the matter, and find that the canal management has been a regular system of plunder, and on a large scale.

NOT MANY WEEKS AGO the telegraph informed the country that Mr. President Johnson had renounced all intoxicating drinks, not even indulging in the use of ale or beer. We advised our temperance friends not to take too much stock in the alleged reform in high place, and it seems from the following deplorable picture, by the correspondent of the Detroit Tribune, that we were about right. He says:

"People often wonder whether the President still is in the habit of drinking. I can say positively that he does; that he is a steady, persistent brandy and whisky drinker; and, worse than that, the White House contains, for the first time since it was built, a drinking, drunken family. The President is a steady drinker. He is what the temperance men call "a moderate drinker." His son Robert, who is one of his Private Secretaries, is a sot. He is beastly drunk for days together. His son-in-law, Senator Patterson, who lives in the White House, is a terrible drinker. He never gets drunk, but he is not far off from delirium tremens. He sallies out from the Senate every hour or two to Whitney's restaurant to take a full tumbler of raw whisky. Nine men out of ten would die in a year of his habits. He swills enough raw whisky to slaughter a regiment of men, and yet continues to do duty as a Senator."

IN the New York Times recently was published a conversation held by a correspondent with ex-Vice President A. H. Stephens, of the Southern Confederacy, in which we find the following significant episode. The concluding paragraph gives sufficient insight into Mr. Stephens' present political ideas, and how far they incline towards the Republican party:

While we were sitting on the porch during the afternoon, the negro member of the Board of Registration came up to see Mr. Stephens. He is a bright fellow, named Ned, who lives in the adjoining county, and is well acquainted with Mr. Stephens. He gave us the statistics of the day's work in the registration of Taliaferro county, which is going on at the Court House here. The result showed that 470 persons had registered, and that the blacks had a majority of 75.

"Massa Aleck," said Ned, "I was looking to you to come down to the registration, and was waiting to help you up the steps."

"Would you have let me register, Ned?"

"I would have done my best, Massa Aleck."

"Well, Ned," said Mr. Stephens, "I have never voted since I voted against secession." Then to the correspondent: "I never voted during the Confederacy."

Mr. Stephens to-day made all his negroes go and register. "By and by," said he, "they will come and ask me how to vote. What can I tell them but to go with their race?"

WEDNESDAY, at Trinity Church, New York, Rev. Dr. Young was consecrated Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Florida. In speaking of the Right Reverend gentleman the New York Evening Post says:

"Dr. Young, who has been connected with this parish some ten or fifteen years, has long been known to the world as very active and enthusiastic in everything relating to the improvement of the æsthetic and beautiful in church music and architecture. To him and his influence may be attributed, in a very high degree, the introduction of ecclesiastical art and artists in Trinity parish. Years since his active mind suggested and carried through all the improvements of the chancel and additional school-room sof St. John's Chapel, while his opinions and taste have been referred to upon almost every improvement that has been adopted in connection with the parish. Very few of his immediate friends are, perhaps, aware of the refining influence his cultured intellect and taste has had over the entire parish; nor is it likely to be so fully known as it deserves. Of reserved and studious habits, devoted entirely to the development of all that was intrinsically good and useful, the outside world knew but little of him beyond his connection with the Russo-Greek Church movement, in which he is a faithful worker; and his recent successful initiation of the first "Festival of the Trinity choirs," at St. John's Chapel, at which, in conjunction with Dr. James Peck, an able scholar in the highest walk of musical art life, and the other organists of the parish, he produced two of the finest performances, within one week, of Handel's oratorio of the "Messiah," sustained by a band and chorus of nearly 3,000 persons. These performances were praised by the press as an effort on the part of Trinity corporation tending, through the happy medium of music, to secure the best and most amicable feeling of the public mind to Trinity parish.

Florida requires all the resources of a man of a good and amiable executive ability. In this, then, the diocese has made a happy selection in the person of the Rev. Dr. Young.

The Rebuilding of Portland.

A late letter from Portland to the Evening Post says:

A year and a few days ago, some three hundred and twenty acres of buildings in the beautiful city of Portland were destroyed by fire. Fifteen hundred buildings were burned to the ground, and fifty-eight streets and eight miles of thoroughfare became a vast field of calcined brick and ashes; ten thousand persons were left homeless; ten millions of property dissipated in the flames. The energies of a prosperous city were, for the moment, prostrated and paralyzed. Yet a little more than twelve months afterwards a grand resurrection has occurred. All over the burnt district there have risen miles of new and beautiful buildings. The City Hall has taken on more elegant forms; banking institutions have taken refuge in substantial buildings of granite and free-stone; and the thousand articles of trade are displayed in storehouses which are better than ever before adapted to the needs of commerce. Along some of the streets there are temporary wooden buildings, which remind one of some of the cities on the frontier, which rise in the night from the prairie; but these will soon be replaced by permanent and more costly structures.

What a splendid triumph of human skill, energy and perseverance is this! There is something very grand in this tenacity of purpose, this unconquerable resolution, this triumph over disaster. It is a symbol of American enterprise. It is more than that; it is a striking exhibition of Yankee pluck. Merchants of the city tell me that in three years they will not only make good to the taxable property the ten millions they lost on that night of sadness, but they will add largely to their wealth, and in every way they are setting themselves to that work.

Torpedoes in Every House.

Gunpowder in the open air burns quietly. In order to show that it has power we must confine it. Except from guns, firecrackers, &c., we might not have found out that gunpowder can make a great noise.

There is a common sort of friction-match composition that is a little more explosive than gunpowder. It burns quicker, and when confined it gives a sharper and louder report. The matches to which we allude ignite with a flash and with a slight crackling sound. Most of the matches called parlor matches are of this sort. The readiest way of making a match explode is to lay it on the floor and press it with the heel of the boot. The report in sharpness and loudness is about the same as that of a percussion cap. Another way of making the experiment is to wrap the match closely in stout paper and give the composition end a slight blow with a hammer. The explosion will be as loud as before, and the paper will be torn to shreds. There is without doubt enough explosive force in a box of matches to burst the stoutest musket. Children should never try the experiment of exploding matches. It is dangerous. The melancholy fate of the Austrian princess, betrothed to the son of Victor Emmanuel, and burned to death but the other day in consequence of treading on a lucifer match, is a warning in point. The greater care should be taken of these too plentiful and perilous little articles.—Scientific American.

THE AMENITIES OF MARRIED LIFE.—In the Divorce Court in London, last month, the case of Forth against Forth, a suit by the husband for divorce on account of the wife's cruelty was tried. The parties were married in 1857, and their life since then seems to have been made up of violent quarrels. Mr. Forth was called, and stated the various acts of cruelty of which he complained. Among them was an attempt to throw one of the children by the first marriage into the fire; throwing candlesticks at the petitioner; scratching his face; throwing the contents of a milk-jar over him, and then pitching the jar at his head; burning the nose of his eldest child, and also burning his own face with a lighted paper, and singing his hair; laying his forehead open with the heel of a boot; throwing a baking dish with a fruit pie in it at him, the contents going all over him; burning his sermons, papers and books; breaking his furniture, and threatening to burn the house. The judge pronounced a decree of judicial separation.

IS THERE TOO MUCH JOKING?—Old Thomas Fuller tells us of writers and speakers in his day, two hundred years ago, who carefully cultivated solemnity of manner, and "for fear their orations should giggle, will not let them smile." Dr. Thomas Brown, of our day, intimates that writers are wanting in seriousness. He says: "It is too much the way with all of us now-a-days to be forever joking." The Christian Register remarks: "It is said that the drawing up of the Declaration of Independence would have been committed to Benjamin Franklin, if it had not been feared that he would 'put a joke into it.' Nothing less than the martyrdom of Abraham Lincoln could have saved his memory in certain quarters from the taint of levity unbecoming his high position."

—In March, 1863, the house of a solitary old man, named Abraham Elom, living by himself, in Crawford county, Missouri, was burned, and his remains found among the smouldering ruins. Some thought the house had accidentally caught fire, and the old man perished in the flames. It now appears the man was robbed and murdered, and the house burned over his remains, by a man named J. D. Shanks, with two accomplices, by the name of Ryerson and Paugh. They have all been arrested.

—In Canada, experiments have been made to substitute peat for coal in the making of cast iron. It is asserted that the iron thus obtained is far superior, and can compete, in softness and toughness, with the best Swedish charcoal iron. As coal contains sulphur, silex and some other substances which act injuriously, by making the iron brittle, the reported results are probably true.

—The Lynchburg Va. Republican says: "Information was lodged with the chief of police on Saturday that two young gentlemen of this city had in contemplation the fighting of a duel, according to the most approved principles of the code of honor. The officer at once had the couple arrested and bound over to keep the King's peace and preserve the good order of the city.

—A travelling peddlar at Quincy, Ill., recently put his arms around a German citizen, named Otto and his wife and kissed them, bringing them under a magnetic influence so powerful that he sold them two table cloths for $500, Mr. Otto borrowing the money of a neighbor. The peddlar then decamped. As a salesman, we warrant that he has no living equal.

—A terrible accident has just occurred at Lawrenceburg, Dearborn county, Ind. Three little boys, brothers, were playing on the railroad track, and were lying between the rails, so that the engineer of the Cincinnati train did not see them in time to check the train or to give the alarm. The cars ran over them and killed all three outright.

—The Cincinnati Inquirer understands that ex-President James Buchanan, has been engaged to lecture in that city the coming winter.

RIOT IN EAST TENNESSEE.

Etheridge, Conservative Candidate for Governor, Fired At.

CONSERVATIVES AND RADICALS FIRE AT ONE ANOTHER FOR TWENTY MINUTES.

Two Men Killed, Seven Mortally and Thirty Slightly Wounded.

ALMOST ANOTHER RIOT AT KNOXVILLE.

NASHVILLE, July 25.—A dreadful riot is reported to have occurred at Rogersville, East Tennessee, on Tuesday. A large crowd had assembled on the public square, near the Court House, to hear Mr. Etheridge, Conservative candidate for Governor, speak. Many, both Conservatives and Radicals, were armed with guns and pistols. After Mr. Etheridge had spoken an hour, he was interrupted by Tom. King, a leading Radical, who pronounced a statement he had made a—d lie. Etheridge retorted bitterly, when some one shot at him. Numerous other shots followed in quick succession. The crowd broke, the Conservatives going in one direction and the Radicals in the opposite, shooting at each other. Finally halting they fired volley after volley at each other for about twenty minutes. A white Conservative and also a colored man were killed, seven mortally wounded and about thirty slightly. The wounded were conveyed to a hotel, where they remain. Etheridge was not hurt. He left for Sneedsville after quiet had been restored.

A negro is reported to have been killed at Knoxville yesterday. He shouted for Brownlow at a Conservative meeting, when he was shot. Prompt action of the police prevented a riot.

FROM MEXICO.

Chiefs Released—Others Arrested in the English Minister's House—Canales Proclaims Himself Governor of Tamaulipas.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—The Herald's New Orleans special says that the latest dates from the Mexican capital state that Marquez, O'Horan, and other prominent chiefs were at large. Generals Andrada, T'Lacuz, Larez, and others, were found secreted in the English Minister's house, and were arrested on the ground that foreign powers did not recognize the Liberal Government, and therefore no consideration was due the Minister.

The northern army has left the capital for the interior. Corona recently passed through Queretaro with seven thousand men, en route for the "Sierra de Anca," to oppose Dazada.

General Diaz recently obtained from eight commercial houses two hundred thousand dollars, without interest, to pay his army. Prominent army officers are offering their resignations every day, but none are accepted.

Otero, Castillo and ten more generals, according to private accounts, were recently shot at Queretaro. The publication of the fact was prohibited by the authorities.

Canales proclaimed himself Governor of Tamaulipas, and levied contributions on Victoria, San Fernand and other places. The people are much excited, and call upon the government for protection. Assistance has been promised, and three thousand troops have left Queretaro to relieve the garrison at Matamoras.

FROM SOUTH CAROLINA.

Union Republican Convention—Interruption by Turning Off the Gaslight.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 24.—The Union Republican Convention met to-day. About sixty delegates were present, representing sixteen districts. A Committee on Credentials was appointed, and several addresses made.

This evening the gas was turned off, leaving all in darkness, and causing much excitement. A guard was asked for from Gen. Burton and obtained, for the protection of the Convention.

[SECOND DISPATCH.]

The proceedings in the Convention to-day were very harmonious. The platform adopted is essentially the same as that adopted at Charleston, and in many respect similar to that of the Radicals of Tennessee. Mild confiscation was proposed but was voted down. An effort to add the name radical to the party, was unsuccessful. A resolution was introduced, saying that the colored race, on account of its loyalty, is entitled to the nomination of one of their color for Vice President of the United States at the next election. Pending the discussion of the resolution, the Convention adjourned till ten o'clock to-morrow morning. W. F. Armstrong, delegate from Washington, addressed the citizens to-night at eight o'clock.

FROM TEXAS.

Cotton Crop Prospects—War Material for Fillibusters, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GALVESTON, TEXAS, July 24.—Leading cotton factors agree that the grass worms, which precede the cotton destroying worm fifteen days, have appeared. The freedmen have not worked well. On some plantations there were grasses, and most in danger from the worm. All accounts agree that the crop will be at least equal to last year, now estimated at 180,000 to 210,000 bales.

A large quantity of war material, accumulated at San Antonio, is destined for the State of Chihuahua. Raphael Aldred, its owner, alleges the Mexican Government intends to distribute it among the citizens for defence against Indians. In spite of these statements, it is suspected the war material is intended for the use of fillibusters.

Galveston is now quite healthy.

General Amnesty Granted Offenders—Soulouque Invited to Return—Disappearance of the Yellow Fever from Kingston, Jamaica.

General Solomon had been appointed Minister to the Courts of London, Paris and Madrid.

The yellow fever has disappeared from Kingston, Jamaica.

The blacks will exceed the whites at least twenty-five or thirty thousand in the State. Twenty odd counties, wherein the blacks have majorities, will elect over half the members of the State Convention.

Railroad Train Thrown from a Bridge—Reward of $1,000 in Gold Offered.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 24.—Yesterday morning a passenger train on the Jackson Railroad ran off the bridge near Terry, Miss., by parties removing the frogs connecting the rails. The locomotive, tender, mail and baggage cars were thrown from the track, falling thirty feet. The passenger cars remained on the bridge. The fireman was killed, and the engineer and a brakeman badly injured. The train was detained several hours. A reward of one thousand dollars in gold is offered for the arrest of the miscreants who removed the frogs. A similar attempt was made three weeks ago, at Crystal Springs, two miles above, but failed.

FROM RICHMOND.

Reply from the Hustings Court to Gen. Schofield's Communication.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, July 24.—The reply of the Justices of Hustings Court to Gen. Schfield's communication will be made public to-morrow. The Court justifies the decisions made by them on the ground of justice, and utterly deny that the parties being born at the North or the South had anything to do with it. With reference to the fining of Hatz only one cent for assaulting a teacher of the freedmen's school, who had whipped his brother, they say the time never was that a Virginia Court would imprison any man for an assault upon another man, when that man had beaten a child, even though the child was of no kith or kin, much less when that child was the son, daughter, brother or sister of the party committing the assault. With reference to the Court having advised a nolle prosequi in a case where the counsel of the parties had said the courts were intended only to try Confederates the magistrates disclaim responsibility for what counsel say, and deny that their judgment was at all influenced by the remark in question. The Commonwealth of the city and Hustings Court also sent letters sustaining the facts cited by the magistrates.

J. M. Botts and about fifty delegates to the Convention have arrived here.

The colored people are holding a political meeting to-night.

WASHINGTON, July 25, 1867.

THE SURRATT TRIAL.

Prof. Harkness corrected his testimony about the moon rising on the night of the assassination. It rose about ten o'clock.

Joseph M. Dubarry, recalled, testified from records as to the running of trains on the Northern Central Railroad on the 14th of April, 1865. Never saw the prisoner before the trial; have no recollection of his having been on a train going South from Elmira April 13th.

S. Koontz was recalled and gave evidence as to the movement of trains between Baltimore and Washington on April 14th.

Further testimony was given as to the characters of Dr. Bissel, McMillan and St. Marie.

Some telegraph operators testified there was telegraphic communication between Washington and Baltimore on the 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th of April, 1865.

Evidence was given as to the running of trains between New York and Washington.

The defense objected to it as not in rebuttal.

A long argument ensued, during which the prosecution stated they expected to prove, by a woman, who would be here on the next train, that Surratt was in New York April 15th, 1865.

The defence again offered to close the case without argument, but the prosecution declined.

The Court stated it would decide upon the point just argued to-morrow.

Some further evidence as to the reputation of John Lee was given and the Court adjourned.

INTRODUCTION OF COOLIE LABOR IN THE SOUTH.

The U. S. Consul at Havana has notified the Department of State that a cargo of Coolies may be shortly expected in New Orleans in violation of the act of Congress of February 19th, 1862, and immigrant act of July 4th, 1864. He has reason to suspect that an extensive scheme is on foot for the introduction of Coolie labor in the South. Instructions are in preparation at the Attorney General's office for the action of District Attorneys, should grounds of the violations of these laws appear.

INCENDIARY FIRE.

Ten Dwellings Burned—Narrow Escape of Families—Arrest of the Alleged Incendiary.

Thursday morning about four o'clock a fire broke out in a large two story frame house, located on the side of the hill above the Spring Garden Plank Road, Seventh ward, Allegheny City, resulting in the total destruction of ten dwelling houses and a stable. The fire was discovered in an alley way alongside a large frame house owned by Conrad Wagner. An alarm was given as soon as possible from Box No. 53, corner of Third and Chestnut streets, but when the steamers reached the ground no water could be obtained, and no efforts could be made to check the flames. The entire building was soon on fire, and the flames rapidly communicated to a two story frame on the north side, owned and occupied by Gustave Rahn. On the south side the flames communicated in rapid succession to eight frame buildings, all two stories high, immediately adjoining each other, and all were destroyed, including nearly all the household effects of the occupants. The house in which the fire broke out was owned by Conrad Wagner, and was occupied by four families, as follows: Conrad Wagner, John Huffnagle, John Virdeman and John Berger. The building adjoining was also owned by Wagner, and was occupied by the families of Henry Wagner and Philip Weigand. The occupants in the first house were unable to remove any of their effects, whatever, and Mr. Wagner escaped in his night clothes. Some of the occupants lost considerable sums of money, which they had laid away in their trunks. The house adjoining on the south was owned by Mrs. Spang, and occupied by herself and another family. It was valued at two thousand dollars, and was insured for eight hundred dollars. The house adjoining Mrs. S.'s was owned by Daniel Kellar, and occupied by himself and a family named Schneipper. The occupants succeeded in removing most of their clothing and furniture, but in a damaged condition. Mr. Kellar estimates his loss at about two thousand dollars, and is insured for eight hundred dollars. Next to Kellar's was a house owned by Dennist Ludner. It was occupied by Ludier and a family named Fadnam. Both occupants succeeded in removing their goods. Mr. Ludier's loss will probably reach fifteen hundred dollars, on which he has an insurance of eight hundred dollars. Adjoining this were two houses, also owned by Conrad Wagner. They were occupied by Philip Speller and Michael Oberdobel, and next to them was a small frame house, owned and occupied by a family named Stakely. On the rear part of the lot was a stable owned and occupied by Wagner, which was also consumed. Wagner's loss is estimated at six thousand dollars, on which he has insurance policies to the amount of two thousand and one hundred dollars. Gustavus Rahn estimates his loss at sixteen hundred dollars. He had an insurance of nine hundred dollars on his house.

All of these buildings, as we have already stated, were entirely destroyed, only the foundation walls and chimneys remaining. During the progress of the fire some narrow escapes were made. A child, which had been overlooked in the confusion, was snatched from the cradle, which had taken fire, and rescued without injury. The gentleman who rescued the child, was severely burned about the face and struck by some falling timbers. The Columbia Hook and Ladder Company did very effective service in tearing down fences and buildings, and also in affording facilities for removing clothing and other articles from the second stories.

The locality in which the fire was first discovered showed that it had been the work of an incendiary, and at an early hour this morning Mr. Wagner appeared before Justice Arent and stated he had reason to suspect the deed had been perpetrated by a young man named Debolt Flockenseiher. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused, and placed in the hands of officer John Shuler. The accused, it appears, has been lounging about Wagner's premises for several days past, and sleeping in the stable. Wagner had ordered him away several times, but failing to induce him to comply with the demand, he threatened to have him arrested. Flockenseiher threatened to get even with him, and intimated that if he was not let alone he would burn the stable. Wednesday night the accused was seen sleeping near the place where the fire broke out, and was the first one observed when the alarm was given.

Officer Shuler arrested him about eleven o'clock, finding him in a cellar of a house, hid away among some rubbish. He was taken before Justice Arent, and after a partial examination was committed in default of bail for a further hearing this morning.

A Mutual Benefit Grocery and Provision Company.

The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement in another column of the Allegheny Grocery and Provision Company which will open shortly for the transaction of public business. The prospectus says:

This Company was organized and has for its object the cheapening of everything relating to family use; and, for this purpose, will open a store in a central location, and sell goods at the real cost of the goods, and a slight addition for expenses. The stock is divided into shares of $50 each. Only one dollar a week is to be paid until it is all paid up. The shareholders will receive their goods at their own doors from 35 to 63 per cent less than they can buy at the regular sales of a retail store. Besides this, they will participate in the profits which are to be realized from selling at the regular retail rates to parties who are not holders of the stock. The stock is being rapidly bought up, and it is supposed the store can be opened up in 30 or 60 days. This is the poor man's chance, as he will be able to save twice as much in a year as he pays for his stock. Besides this, it is expected this stock will rapidly rise to 100 per cent. above par. There is only a limited amount now for sale, though many a poor man can get a chance to take a share in the profits, as well as get his groceries and produce at cost, even if he has only paid one dollar on it. Just think of it! you will go into a grocery store and spend $5, and $6 of it is clear profit to the storekeeper; whereas, by investing one of these dollars in this Company, you can save the other. By purchasing even one share of stock, instead of being a burden it will actually be a saving to you of from $1 to $5 per week, besides paying your weekly instalment on your stock.

The stock can be sold at any time for its full value, that you may need the money. Only one dollar per week is required on each share. This is a Savings Bank in which your profits are immediate and direct. You get your interest right in your hands, and a share of the profits at the end of the year. We can imagine no better investment. Our well known energetic and enterprising citizens, John A. McGraw and J. P. Israel, have been chosen respectively President and Secretary, and the present office of the Company is located at No. 26 Federal street. As such an enterprise will find folks willing and anxious to take stock we advise our readers to call early if they would subscribe.

"Mill" on St. Clair Street Bridge.

An interesting little affair came off on the St. Clair street bridge, about two o'clock yesterday, in the way of a fight between one of the toll-takers, at the north end of the bridge, and an independent "cuss" who attempted to pass over without paying his penny. The fellow had proceeded to the first pier before he was caught by the toll-taker, and there the "mill" took place. It was started by the bridge man, who struck the first blow, causing the "claret" to flow profusely, but notwithstanding he got in a good one it did not appear to give him any decisive advantage over his antagonist, who was the smaller man of the two, but whose pluck was unquestionable. They had two or three rounds, but were separated before either could claim a victory. The "mill" lasted several minutes, creating quite an excitement and quite a crowd had assembled before it was "quieted." The street car, which was passing, was compelled to stop on account of the crowd, and the passengers enjoyed the sport with a zest highly creditable to a sporting community. It is supposed by some that there were other grounds for the affray than the refusing to pay toll, but as to this we are unable to say. The parties appeared very anxious to fight for some cause or other and their immediate friends evinced no disposition to prevent them from doing so.

Assault and Battery Cases.

John Sands made information before Alderman Strain, against Jacob Durand, George Durand, Lawrence Hoofneigle, and Henry H. Foley, charging them with assault and battery. He alleges that he was attacked by the defendants on the thirteenth of July, in Robinson township, where the parties all reside, and beaten by them in a shameful manner. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the defendants.

Mary Miller appeared before the above named officer and made information against Hannah Mellon, in which she alleges the defendant struck her over the head with a stick of wood and knocked her down, and that she pulled two handfulls of hair from her head. The parties reside in Montooth's Court, off Wylie street. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Hannah.

The Watch Case.

In our issue of yesterday we published an item under the above caption, in which it was stated that Mr. J. S. Kennedy, who keeps a jewelry store on Fifth street, near Wood, had sold to a man named Smith a watch, which was not what he represented it to be. Mr. Kennedy, having been arrested on a charge of false pretence, had a hearing yesterday before Alderman Strain, when he was discharged, the prosecutor failing to make out his case. Mr. Kennedy proved that the watch case was silver, and that it was worth $25. We make this statement because it is due to Mr. Kennedy, having published the other side of the case, and it always affords us pleasure to make corrections when we have been led into error, as we were in this instance.

Larceny of Tools.

James Campbell and John Murphy are stone cutters, the former residing in Snyder's Hollow, McClure township, and the latter a resident of the Tenth ward. Some time since the parties were doing a job of work together, and about the time the work was completed, Campbell missed a number of his tools, and all efforts to find them have proven fruitless. Latterly he has had reason to believe that Murphy had the missing tools, and he yesterday appeared before Alderman Lynch, and made an information against him for larceny. A warrant was issued, Murphy arrested and held for a hearing.

Report accepted and resolution adopted.

The communication was received and the resolution passed to a third reading and adopted.

Mr. Thomas offered a resolution relating to the laying of three hundred feet of water pipe on Sedgwick street, which had been referred to Water Committee with power to act by C. C., Select Council non-concurring. After a lengthy discussion of the matter by Messrs. Thomas, Hall and others, S. C. receded from their former action and concurred with C. C.

A resolution previously adopted in S. C., changing the name of Chestnut street, in Manchester, to Juniata street, was taken up and concurred in.

A resolution in relation to the changing of the names of streets, adopted in C. C., in a previous meeting, was referred to the Committee on Surveys.

Smith vs. the General Grant Fire Company, on the payment of three hundred dollars and cost of suit, report in favor of concurring with the action of Select Council. The report was accepted and adopted.

Mr. O'Neill offered a resolution instructing the Street Commissioner to have the obstructions placed on South Canal street by the Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company be removed immediately.

Mr. Slagle, in explanation of the resolution, stated that the Railroad Company had taken possession of a portion of the streets in the upper part of the city, and placed a fence thereon. The right of the company to the property was disputed, and the resolution was intended to give the company opportunity to prove their title, in case they were able to do so.

Mr. McNeil said Duquesne borough had taken similar action, and the Railroad Company had not been able to show any title to the property in dispute.

Mr. Megraw did not think it proper for the city to involve itself in an expensive lawsuit for the benefit of a few individuals.

Mr. Dill moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Streets, in conjunction with the City Solicitor, with power to act. Adopted.

Mr. McDonald offered a resolution donating one of the desks formerly in use in the Council Chambers to the Friendship Hose Company. Adopted.

On motion, adjourned.

Cures of Deafness.

There are hundreds of cases of partial deafness and hard hearing that could be greatly ameliorated, and many of them cured, as may be seen by the two striking cures, published herewith, by Dr. Keyser, of this city:

DEAR SIR:—I take pleasure in adding my testimony to that of others in favor of Dr. Keyser's treatment of deafness. My son had been afflicted for five years with deafness, produced from scarlet fever. At times he could not hear at all; and could only understand as we would motion to him. His speech had also become affected. Having tried other remedies without receiving any benefit, I applied to Dr. Keyser, and under his treatment he has entirely recovered, and can now hear as well as he ever did.

JOHN B. GARRET,
No. 177 Beaver street, Allegheny.

To DR. KEYSER, 120 Penn street:

I lost my hearing during the last year. Part of the time I was totally deaf. In April of this year I was induced, by an advertisement, to make application to Dr. Keyser, 120 Penn street, Pittsburgh—after having tried various medicines and doctors without any benefit. I have been under Dr. Keyser's treatment now for nearly two months, and am entirely restored to my hearing, so that I can hear a pin drop.

JOHN SCANLAN,
Coal Bluff, Washington county, Pa.

Decidedly Fine.

The new Circular just issued by the Iron City College, is decidedly one of the finest things of the kind that has appeared for many a day. It is a large eight page quarto, profusely and elegantly illustrated with accurate views of the city of Pittsburgh, elaborate representations of the different departments of the College, its Banks, Emporium and other offices, and last but not least, it contains a magnificent sheet of Professor Cowley's inimitable Plain and Ornamental Penmanship, representing "St. George and the Dragon." The letter press, which is full and complete, gives a thorough description of the College and its admirable system of practical actual business training so successfully carried out here, and which has rendered the College so popular among business men everywhere. In short, the whole thing reflects great credit upon the taste and energy of the enterprising managers of the College, and can not fail to convince the public that they are fully up to the demands of the times. Copies of this Circular will be mailed free to any address on application to the Principals, Smith & Cowley, Pittsburgh, Pa.

False Pretence.

The following cases of false pretence were before Alderman Strain:

S. H. Robinson of Allegheny city made information against John Atmor of the Ninth ward, Pittsburgh, alleging that in April the defendant borrowed $25 of him stating that he was employed at the railroad depot in Allegheny, and that there was a considerable amount of money due him from the company, and that as soon as it was paid he would refund the $25. Atmore was arrested and held for a hearing.

Henry Myers of the firm of Anderson & Myers, clothiers on Smithfield street, made information against Thomas McMahan, in which he alleges that the defendant purchased clothing from the firm to the value of $75, representing to them that he was in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and that he would pay the bill as soon as he received his money from them. The defendant was arrested and held for a hearing.

Monumental Fair.—Mr. James Park, Treasurer of the Soldier's Monumental Association, is desirous of closing the books of the Association at once, and to enable him to do so, requests that all persons having bills or accounts against the Association will render them this week.

Stolen Watch Recovered.

John E. Murphy had a silver watch valued at thirty dollars stolen from his boarding house in the Fifth ward. The circumstances under which the watch disappeared led to the belief that a female attache of the house had appropriated it, and an information was made against her. She was arrested and had a hearing, but there being no evidence against her, she was discharged. The watch was subsequently found at Le Roy's pawn-broker establishment, on Smithfield street, where it had been "spouted" by a man unknown to the parties. This, in connection with the girl's former good character, and other facts brought to light in the matter, entirely exonerate her from any complicity in the theft.

Delightful Serenade.

Last night the old GAZETTE was honored with a delightful serenade from that master martial band—the Allegheny Drum Corps. The music was grand and soul-stirring, there being a large number of performers and each one a musician of no ordinary merit. The serenade attracted quite a large crowd and elicited the heartiest praise from the bystanders. The band, which is one of the best of the character in the county, is under the leadership of Mr. William Philippi. We are very grateful for the compliment, and cordially invite our musical friends to call again, as their visits will always be highly appreciated.

The Picnic of Pittsburgh Division No. 42 Sons of Temperance, promises to be one of the most pleasant festivals and gatherings of the season. The names of the ladies and gentlemen having the matter in charge is a sufficient guarantee of the respectable character of the affair.

The "Forty-twosters" certainly deserve commendation and liberal encouragement for their philanthropic labors in the great cause of Temperance. They seek by a combination of social and musical influences to draw men away from temptation and enlist them in earnest efforts for the salvation of others. In this good work they should be encouraged by the sympathies and support of the community.

Some of our Cotemporaries seem to think that the triumph of their cause depended, like the fate of Jericho, upon the amount of noise made—in these days of refinement and luxury, an article of real intrinsic merit is soon appreciated: hence the unbounded and unparalleled success of PLANTATION BITTERS.

This remedy has ever and always been found reliable. As a gentle stimulant and tonic appetizer it cannot be excelled. It is no doubt a sovereign remedy for stomachic disorders—for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and in stimulating a healthy appetite.

Headquarters Republican State Central Committee.

We are authorized to announce that the headquarters of the Union Republican State Central Committee will be at Harrisburg until otherwise ordered.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

As the Chairman of the Committee is the Secretary of State, and one of the Secretaries of the Committee is Private Secretary to the Governor, we are constrained to ask in which room the headquarters of the Committee are established? As we judge, the whole arrangement is unfortunate for Governor GEARY if not for the Republican party.

THE INDIANS.

Upon the recent assembling of Congress the two Houses, by very decided majorities, agreed to transact no business except in relation to the special matter of Reconstruction that had made the session indispensable. In only one particular was this programme departed from. The exception was in authorizing the appointment of a Commission to treat with the Indian tribes located east of the Rocky Mountains. Evident necessity existed for this exception. The Indian difficulties had assumed serious proportions, in the judgments of men connected with both the civil and military departments of the Government; the expenses attending the military movements that had been ordered, had become large, with the prospect of speedily doubling; the interruption of business, and particularly the construction of the rival railroads across the continent, had become so damaging; together with the complications looming up in the near future; that all conspired to make it most wise and prudent measures of reconciliation should be tried, and with as little delay as practicable.

The Commission provided for is to consist of three Generals of the army, a Senator, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and two other Civilians. This Commission are to hear the complaints of the Indians themselves; to take the testimony of other persons who from residence or travel among them may be possessed of valuable information bearing upon the alleged grievances of the tribes; to select a reservation, of sufficient extent to accommodate the Indians on this side of the Mountains, and to induce them to remove thither under such inducements and upon such conditions as shall appear just and reasonable. The idea is entertained at Washington that this scheme will prove successful, and that the costs thereof, however large they may be, will be vastly less than would be required in a war of extermination, which seems to be the only alternative.

Still, it cannot be denied that formidable obstacles are likely to be encountered in the execution of this project. Many of the tribes with whom the Commission will have to deal have already been transferred from one point to another, under treaties with the Government for the peaceable enjoyment of new homes, and for absolute sovereignty over the domains allotted to them. These treaties have not been kept on the part of the Government. Of course there are extenuating circumstances, but not of such a nature as to be correctly apprehended by the savages. So far from it, these circumstances as they are presented to their minds seem to be susceptible of no other aspect than that of deadly hostility. Take an illustration. A railroad is pushed directly into and through Indian reservations, in disregard of the plain and undeniable stipulations of the government. The consent of the Indians to this invasion has not been obtained; probably not even been asked. A railroad is regarded by them, as by ourselves, as the most significant sign of our civilization. It necessarily implies an influx of white people; the introduction of numerous industrial employments; the destruction of game; and the subversion of all those ancient customs which are congenial to the aborigines, and from which neither threats nor blandishments, neither the elevating tendencies of education nor the softening influences of christianity, have sufficed to wean them. In the estimation of the whites all this seems most desirable, and according to that inevitable destiny which controls the fate of each individual equally with the resplendant movements of the planetary systems. But this is not the view the Indians take of the matter. From their stand-point each of these acts implies a cruel breach of faith on the part of the National government; an intention to deprive them of their rights; a determination to make them repudiate all their old and cherished modes of living, and adopt new and obnoxious ones, or else be swept from the face of creation.

It is doubtless true that none of the native tribes on this continent or in the Pacific Islands, have cordially accepted the type of civilization which prevails among the whites; but have withered and disappeared in the presence of it. Men whose minds are cast in the mould of Mr. CAYLYLE's may be able to see the fiat of the Almighty in this, and to exult in the triumph of the strong and wise over the weak and ignorant. The Indians have not risen to an altitude which enables them to take so philosophical a view of their own case. It may well be doubted if any single man ever did unless he had previously come to the conclusion that he belonged to the dominant race, whose fortune it was to trample out the other. In this case his philosophy of the superiority of one race over another would be but a projection of his personal egotism; and would scarcely inspire respect on the part of those who hold it common with him.

Still, however strong and valiant the Indians may feel as individuals, and however sturdily they might be inclined to maintain the contest provided they could do so on any thing like equal terms, they know at least measurably how deficient they are in numbers and resources as compared with the whites, and cannot fail to perceive, even from afar, the final end of such a war as is in prospect. Considerations of prudence may overmaster the instinct of resistance and revenge, and lead them to accept such conditions as the Commission may feel warranted in offering. The probability of such a result justifies the experiment.

SINCE the fall of the Mexican empire a Reign of Terror has existed in that country unequalled since the fall of Robespeirre in France. JUAREZ and his coadjutors have given an inexorable elucidation of President JOHNSON's dicta, that "treason is the highest crime known to the laws, and ought to be punished as such." They have done without flinching, and apparently without remorse, precisely what a class of stern and bloody-minded men desired to have done in the United States as soon as the rebellion was overthrown.

Is there room for a rational doubt as to natural tendency of the numerous executions by which the Mexican liberals have startled the civilized world? It may be confessed that by these crimson reprisals they have shaken defiance at the monarchies of Europe, and given an exhibition that will be likely to deter, for many years, at least, interventions from that quarter in the affairs of the republic. It may, likewise, be admitted that they have repelled effectually the patronizing offices of the government of the United States, which managed to retain close and amicable relations with MAXIMILIAN so long as he was apparently firmly seated on his throne, but undertook to dictate to the republicans as [illegible] as they had battered the throne beneath him. But, what must be the effect of these butcheries upon the Mexicans themselves, and upon the destiny of the government the republicans are endeavoring to set up?

Accounts have reached this country, that many liberals, who have not allowed their passions to over-master their judgments, are appalled and horror-stricken. They infer the future from what they have witnessed in the past, and anticipate the period as not distant when this blood will have to be atoned for by other blood; that cycles of butcheries must revolve until the administration shall fall into the hands of men great enough to comprehend the power of forbearance and compassion, and by these virtues staunch the wounds of that unhappy country.

THE National Union Central Committee—which is the Committee that looks after the interests of President JOHNSON in Pennsylvania—met at Philadelphia on Tuesday of the present week. The attendance from the interior was reported to be large, considering the season of the year; but, as the list of members present is modestly withheld, it is difficult to determine how many men actually did turn out.

Much "confidence and enthusiasm" prevailed, according to the published account, but how the enthusiasm was created, and in what the confidence was reposed, is covered with a convenient oblivion. "No definite action was had in regard to calling a State Convention." That was decidedly judicious. A set of resolutions were adopted, in which the condition of the country was terribly bemoaned, the President extravagantly lauded, and "the supremacy of races" declared to be most important. This new phraseology, "the supremocy of races," sounds euphoneous; but what it means baffles our comprehension. We understand how one race can be supreme; but when supremacy is affirmed of races—this is, of all races—we do not see what is intended. If so much is mysterious, the meaning is made plain when the declaration is given that "the revolutionists must be defeated at the polls, and the government must be rescued from the fangs of the conspirators who are striving to supplant it with a Congressional despotism." Quite a job is this the Conservatives have undertaken, of defeating the loyal masses, whose representatives occupy the chambers of Congress. As vigorous work is to be done, the Committee did well in resolving not to commence until the weather shall become cooler.

A Remarkable Statement—Letter from Rev. Mr. Merrill—He Calls for Mercy.

The Rev. Mr. Merrill, whose recent disappearance from Plattsburgh, New York, after being charged with most disrespectful conduct in connection with a young lady in North Adams, Mass., led many to suppose he had committed suicide—a supposition strengthened by the fact that a portion of his clothes were found by the banks of a river in the vicinity of the town—has made his appearance in the West, and writes a letter to the Troy Times, in which he recounts his experience from the time he entered the ministry until the present. He says that ever since he commenced to preach, in 1848, he has been constantly in debt, and to this fact alone he charges all his troubles. He says:

In 1843 I left school at the request of several ministers, and went to Warren circuit to aid the preachers stationed upon that field. The circuit comprised six towns. I was a poor boy, but eighteen years old, had thin, poor clothes, and was over one hundred dollars in debt. A gentleman gave me a cast off overcoat to keep me from suffering with the cold, and another gave me the use of a horse for part of the year. I hoped to be able to save enough to pay my debts and get me some clothes that year. But the other two ministers had families dependent upon them for support, and the people for the most part were poor, and it took all they could give to take care of them; so I worked through the year and received but four dollars and my board. At the close of the year I was sent to another circuit, where I was compelled to buy a horse and carriage. I had no money, and ran into debt for these, and also for clothes to wear. At the close of this year I found that my income had been a trifle less than one hundred dollars. Of course my debts remained unpaid. They began troubling me. I ought to have stopped preaching then and gone into some other business, and paid my debts. But I was now engaged to be married, and my pride rose up against going and making an open acknowledgment that I must stop preaching and go to work to pay my debts. This was my first sad mistake. But others said I had better continue to preach; I would get better pay in the future. So I hoped, and so I believed. I was married, and made the best show I could for housekeeping. At the conference of 1851, I was appointed to Washington Mountain, Massachusetts. With my wife and one child I went to my post. There I found no house to live in, and nothing to keep house with. There was no church, but an old store in which to preach. I went to work with a good heart, but troubled with my debts on every side. I sold my horse to help me to live. At the end of the year I went to the Conference, and reported a new church finished and paid for. I had received $200 salary. At this Conference I was removed 250 miles to the Canada lines in Vermont. I had not one dollar to pay my expenses. I borrowed the money, took my sick wife with a babe but three weeks old in her weary arms, and far among strangers we made our sad way. Here, too, I found a field of five towns to travel over and no means to buy a horse. Then I ought to have stopped preaching. But no: a gentleman trusted me for a horse and carriage. Now I was in debt $600. My conscience told me I ought to go into some other business and pay my debts. Pride, and the ill-timed advice of friends, kept me back. This winter I was so thinly clad, and so exposed to the fearful cold of that mountain region, that my health gave way and sickness and expense followed. Two years after my eldest daughter was stricken down with hip joint disease, from which she has never recovered. For days and months we carried her in our arms. We left nothing undone which love could suggest or skill accomplish to gain relief, but all in vain. Now I had not only debts overwhelming me with confusion, but a living death filling our hearts with the profoundest sorrow. Oh, the anguish of those days none can tell. Thus the days passed heavily on, and my burdens bowed me to the very dust. In 1861 I was appointed to the City of Albany. The gloom and horrors of civil war were now coming upon the nation. For one year I performed the work of my ministry as faithfully as I knew how, and at the same time devoted my energies and influence to aid the war committees in sustaining public meetings and securing volunteers for the army. In 1862 I went with my regiment, the 177th New York, to the field of contest. I stayed as long as I could, and did my duty as well as I knew how. I had left my wife and seven helpless children to care for, that I might do something for my country in her hour of trial and danger. This service had so increased my financial embarrassments that it seemed to me I must sink and go distracted. At this time I made several attempts to get into business to relieve myself and pay my debts. Those who trusted me, felt hard because I did not pay them. I walked my house, or the open streets day after day, not knowing what to do. I preached as well as I could under such trials. I many times even contemplated suicide. But from this my whole moral nature recoiled with horror. When those whom I owed asked me for money, I would give them all I had, and promised them more as soon as I could get it. I ought to have laid aside all pride, and appealed to a generous public to help me. But I thought my family would feel disgraced and look upon themselves as paupers. So I hoped for better days and suffered on. My conscience meanwhile began to grow more and more indifferent to duty. I sought temporary relief in travel and society. I sought the more joyous and worldly persons for company. In 1864 I was stationed at North Adams. Here I found a generous and good people. I tried to serve them faithfully and well; indeed, I worked beyond my strength. In a protracted meeting which I held there I was engaged one hundred and twenty three nights in succession. My nervous system became weak and over excited. My debts perfectly overwhelmed me at times. I sought the society of the young, and where the most freedom and gayety could be found there I visited most frequently. This gave occasion for talk. Some scandal soon started in connection with my name. But as God is true, I only sought this society in preference to the more sober to drown my trouble of mind. I was proud and willful, and would not listen to the counsel of friends. Up to this time my reputation as a minister had not materially suffered. As the last year drew to a close, my reputation was suffering more than I was at the time aware of. I was indiscreet. I called at the house of the family with whom my name had been so sadly associated more frequently than I ought to have done. I did not only myself an injury but the family also. But God knows I did not intend to injure any one. Two or three of the family were members of the choir, and excellent singers. This served to furnish relief from the gloom and darkness which had settled down upon me. I always appeared cheerful. But it was all put on. I was miserable indeed. When on my way west, I met the lady whose name has been so unfortunately associated with my own in Troy, and accompanied her to Albany—a most careless and imprudent step. This gave occasion for that awful article which appeared in the Times, charging us with an elopement. When that article was published we were more than two hundred miles apart, and when the paper was handed me, and I read the article, the last ray of light seemed to be extinguished. I was on my way home. Oh, God! my mind wandered and my brain was on fire. I tried to pray. I wept and walked the boat. I returned to Troy and secured a retraction in the papers. But whatever paper I took in my hands from distant parts of the country, my eyes were horrified with the most extravagant and false statements in relation to me.

And here I desire to say, that no part of the blame or censure belonging to me for imprudence or wrong doing in this whole matter should be cast upon the young lady involved in this sad affair. I am older, and on my uncovered head let the blows of condemnation fall. I am to blame. Every fair minded person will see that what I now say cannot be said to screen me, or in any way help my case, further than as truth will do it. But as God is my judge, and as I expect to give a strict account at His bar in the last great day, for all I speak and do, and as I hope for acquittal when all men stand silent before God, so far as any crime is concerned with me, or any other being on earth, as far as I know, that young lady is as pure as the stars that shine over her head by night, or the sun that lights her path by day.

He further says his troubles worried him so much he resolved to commit suicide, and actually made the attempt, but when in the water he thought of his wife and children, and he repented of his design. He then fled to the West, where he wrote to his family. The letter closes with a piteous appeal for charitableness and forgiveness.

A Venerable Orator.

If the following paragraph, which we find in a Virginia exchange is not incorrect, a remarkable instance of longevity in the Old Dominion has been suffered to pass unnoticed by the people at large. We quote:

"It is expected that Hon. H. L. Grigsby, of Norfolk, the oldest living cotemporary of Jefferson, who was a class mate at William and Mary's College with Jefferson when Virginia was a colony under the British crown, and who was a member of the Convention of 1776, will be one of the speakers on the occasion of the [illegible] of the Jefferson statue at Ch[illegible]le, October 8th."

If Mr. G[illegible] a member of the Convention [illegible] he could not have been less than twenty-one years old at the time. On the supposition that he had just then attained his majority, he was born in 1755. But he is also said to have been Jefferson's class mate. Jefferson was born in 1743, and entered William and Mary's College in 1760. Young Grigsby could hardly have been matriculated at an earlier age than fourteen, and must, therefore, have been born no later than 1746. An address from a patriarch of one hundred and twenty-one years would be a novelty indeed, and we are afraid that the exercises at Charlottsville will not be thus signalized. We are aware that Virginia has produced a regiment of colored centenarians, each and all of whom were General Washington's favorite family servants, but white Methuselahs are much more rare.—Cincinnati Gazette.

GIVE NATURE A LIFT.

People expect too much of Nature. They trifle with their health and their constitutions, and then are surprised that they feel sick. The pressure of constant mental or bodily labor, upon the animal powers, is tremendous. Very few systems and constitutions can bear up against this pressure unassisted. Add to this the unhealthy influences which lurk unseen in the air we breathe, the water we drink, the lassitude produced at this season by the change from the rigor of winter to the warmth of spring, and it would seem to require almost superhuman vigor to keep in perfect health without reinforcing the physical energies. But how reinforce them? Certainly not with adulterated stimulants. There is no poison in the outer air, or in the atmosphere of furnace-heated rooms, or work-shops, or factories, so pernicious as those deadly-burning fluids. Why use them, when HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a vegetable tonic without a flaw, are everywhere obtainable? Nothing has ever been offered to the feeble and debilitated so harmless in its nature, so powerful in its invigorating effects as this celebrated STOMACHIC AND ALTERATIVE. In the army and the navy, in the settlements, and in crowded cities, by old and young, rich and poor, it is used as a PROTECTIVE and RESTORATIVE MEDICINE, with most gratifying results.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnus, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhœa, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5. Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood street. au30

GROCERY AND PROVISION
COMPANY.

JOHN A. McGRAW, President.
J. P. ISRAEL, Secretary.

PRESENT OFFICE:
26 FEDERAL STREET,
ALLEGHENY.

This Company was organized and has for its object the cheapening of everything relating to family use; and, for this purpose, will open a store in a central location, and sell goods at the real cost of the goods, and a slight addition for expenses. The stock is divided into shares of $50 each. Only ONE DOLLAR A WEEK is to be paid until it is all paid up. The shareholders will receive their goods at their own doors from 34 to 60 per cent. less than they can buy at the regular sales of a retail store. Besides this, they will participate in the profits which are to be realized from selling at the regular retail rates to parties who are not holders of the stock. The stock is being rapidly bought up, and it is supposed the store can be opened up in 30 or 60 days. This is the poor man's chance, as he will be able to save twice as much in a year as he pays for his stock. Besides this, it is expected this stock will rapidly rise to 100 per cent. above par. There is only a limited amount now for sale, though many a poor man can yet get a chance to take a share in the profits, as well as get his groceries and produce at cost, even if he has only paid one dollar on it. Just think of it! you will go into a grocery store and spend $5, and $4 of it is clear profit to the storekeeper; whereas, by investing one of these dollars in this Company, you can save the other. By purchasing even one share of stock, instead of being a burden it will actually be a saving to you of from $1 to $5 per week, besides paying your weekly instalment on your stock.

The stock can be sold at any time for its full value, that you may need the money.

ONLY ONE DOLLAR PER WEEK

Is required on each share. This is a Savings Bank in which your profits are immediate and direct. You get your interest right in your hands, and a share of the profits at the end of the year.

Parties wishing to subscribe can do so at

No. 26 Federal St., Allegheny City.

Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh, Pa.

GENTLEMEN:—We ship you, to-day, by railroad, a safe of your make, for a few repairs. The safe went through the disastrous fire that occurred here on the 6th of March last, burning our store and warehouse, and we are glad to inform you that the papers taken out of the safe after the fire were not harmed in the least. We did not suppose any safe, especially so small a size, could possibly stand such a fire, and when we discovered the papers all safe and sound, we were agreeably disappointed. We will give you an order for a large size safe when we get into our new store. Truly yours,
W. & A. J. PACKARD.

LAWRENCEVILLE.

Rapid Improvement—Streets Graded and Opened—Wainright's Island—School Matters—Beautiful Residences—Consolidation, &c.

The improvement and increase of the population of the borough of Lawrenceville, in the last five years, is truly remarkable. Much of this has taken place within two or three years, and at the present time a visitor to the locality would be a dull observer, indeed, did he not note the surprising activity which pervades everything in the way of improvement, both in individual enterprise and energy on the part of the borough authorities. We went to Lawrenceville yesterday, a period of six or eight months having elapsed since our former visit, and although in conversation with residents we had been told of rapid advancement in that neighborhood, our observation more than filled the measure of the idea we had formed, and hence we were agreeably disappointed.

A FAMILIAR FACE AND PLACE.

Alighting from a passenger car, as has been our wont on previous visits, with a like object in view, we bent our steps to the office of Wm. Jancey, Esq., Justice of the Peace, &c., than whom there is no resident who has been and continues to be more closely identified with the interests of the borough of Lawrenceville. He is one of those sort of men whose rarity cause them to be sought after, and being found, seem indispensable when once they become connected with general public interests. We have enjoyed his acquaintance for ten or twelve years, when Lawrenceville was but a mere village in comparison with its present importance, and have ever found him keenly alive to everything calculated to enhance the general public welfare, to which he has largely contributed in discharging trusts reposed in him. We are pleased to know that he has prospered as the borough prospered, and in his case it is peculiarly fitting that his faithfulness and industry should meet with commensurate reward.

GENERAL IMPROVEMENTS.

To the non-resident or stranger it is necessary to say that Lawrenceville is on the eastern boundary of the city, a small strip of Pitt township intervening between the city and borough line. And just here it may be proper to remark that the substantial impetus given to improvement in the borough and immediate vicinity arose from the construction of the Citizens Passenger Railway. This material requisite supplied, what we now see on all sides has been but the natural result of the convenient facilities of communication afforded. While the city authorities did not feel called upon to fix the grade or remove the swamp hole (such it literally was in the fall season) just beyond the city line, and the turnpike company gave the matter little or no attention, the Passenger Railway Company, having in view what has resulted, saw the necessity for having the street graded and paved, and through their efforts, as well as mainly at their expense, the work was done. It is now a fine street, as it should be, being the only highway leading out of the city in that direction. The turnpike company still have their toll-house on the line dividing the township and the borough, but the march of improvement will soon necessitate its removal to a point where tolls may be collected with less appearance of imposition. The paving of Butler street, through the borough, followed, and it is now one of the finest thoroughfares to be found either in the city or any of the suburban corporations.

BOROUGH IMPROVEMENTS.

The rapid increase in the value of real estate made it necessary, in order to render lots available, that the borough should provide for the grading and paving of other streets, and opening of new ones, on both sides of Butler street, which is the main artery of travel, and the progress made in this respect, and the results, are really remarkable. On the east side of Butler street, and intervening between it and the turnpike, forming a sort of triangle, many residences of the most substantial character have been erected, some are in progress, and the yet vacant lots are held at high figures. Further out, eastward, toward the cemeteries, the ground vacant but a few years since has been built up, and the United States Park, (or Arsenal grounds,) is hedged in on all sides. Intervening between Butler street and the Allegheny Valley Railroad, or bank of the river, the same prospect is presented.

Under authority granted by the Legislature for uniting Wainright's Island with the borough, contracts have been given out for filling up the intervening space, which will be a very material improvement. The island is included in the borough limits, and when part of it on a ground basis, very substantial advantages will accrue to the owners of the property. While at Justice Jancey's office we were shown contracts entered into by Patrick Maugan for filling up Allen street from the railroad to the island, and by James Duane for the grading of Grant street from St. Mary's Avenue to Bellefontaine street.

A NEW BRICK YARD AND QUARRY.

The increased building, and consequent large demand for material, has resulted in the establishing of a brick yard and quarry in the vicinity of Sharpsburg, at Hite's Run, a short distance above the borough. A tract of twenty-five acres has been purchased by Garrison & Co., on which the brick clay is eight feet in thickness, with an abundance of good sharp sand. A side track, eight hundred and twenty-five feet in length, has been constructed, on which cars of the Allegheny Valley Railroad are run to the premises, and the brick loaded into them from an incline of considerable length. The means of transportation are easy and convenient, and already a large quantity of brick has been supplied for building and paving purposes in the borough. The firm, in which Justice Jancey is largely interested, has but fairly got to work, with facilities for manufacturing 1,500,000 brick annually. They have secured the services of Mr. Henry Atkinson, an experienced brickmaker, as general superintendent. The stone quarry has been stripped, the operations so far not very extensive, but the investment, with the almost certain continuance of building improvements, must prove a paying one.

SCHOOL MATTERS.

The rapid increase of the borough necessitated its division into two wards, and the large school house, built but a few years since, proving inadequate, the School Board have decided it to be necessary to erect a building with twelve rooms in the Second ward. The one-story frame structure in the Second ward, occupied during the last school year, served the purpose to some extent, but it was rendered necessary to send pupils to the first ward school, thus crowding both. Lots have been purchased, and the new building will be commenced next year.

BEAUTIFUL RESIDENCES.

We noticed some particularly fine residences in the borough, not as to costliness of construction, but in respect to convenience—built not so much for show as for comfort and adaptability to family enjoyment. A new block on Butler street, beyond the Passenger Railway Depot, pleased our fancy, and a feeling of envy seized us as we viewed them. In other parts of the borough we noticed some residences, perhaps finer, and others less pretending, perhaps equally convenient and comfortable; but none which at first glance seemed to fill our conception so well as those on Butler street. The proportion of frame buildings going up is not as large as we might have supposed, and those of this character are generally neat and substantial.

As a place of residence, now, Lawrenceville, at least the upper portion of it, according to our idea, is superior to any of our suburban corporations. The ground is ascending, the view is pleasant, also the immediate surroundings, and the situation is far enough removed from the smoke and bustle of business. Evidence of its appreciation from from these considerations are abundantly apparent.

CONSOLIDATION.

The question of consolidation with the city has not as yet excited a great deal of discussion, but we understand the citizens of the borough generally favor it. On the score of taxation, no objections are urged, and some are of the opinion the taxes might be reduced under consolidation. The rates for borough and school purposes are high, with no prospect of reduction, at least for a year or two. In the event of consolidation taking place as proposed in the act, Lawrenceville will occupy very nearly a central position, and hence would not fail of becoming a very desirable portion of it.

THE OUTSKIRTS

Of the borough, particularly the vicinity intervening between the turnpike and the Pennsylvania Railroad, are thickly dotted over with houses, and at several points what might well be termed villages have sprung into existence. Taking in sight from a particular point what advancement has been made in the locality within say five years, and supposing equal progress should be made in the next five years, one can readily imagine what appearance the borough of Lawrenceville and the vicinity, now outside the city limits, will then present.

But we have written more than we intended on this occasion. When next we speak of Lawrenceville, we shall particularize as to individual improvements.

House Breakers Caught.

Two burglars were "cooped" on Wednesday night by Alderman Irwin and a policeman, in a manner which reflects great credit on both Alderman and police officer. The Alderman, who resides at No. 922, Penn street, was aroused at a late hour of the night by a neighbor, and informed that an attempt was being made to enter his house but after an examination was satisfied that so far as his premises were concerned all was right. Hearing suspicious sounds in the neighborhood, however, the Alderman determined to prosecute the search, and policeman, John Frail coming along, the two proceeded to an examination of the neighboring premises. They soon had reason to believe that the premises No. 926, occupied by Mrs. Raney, held the coveted game. Cautiously proceeding the officers soon had the satisfaction of cooping the burglars, who, seeing that the game was up, surrendered immediately. The precious pair were conducted to the lock-up where they gave the names of John Rosewell and John Wilkinson. The latter waived a hearing and gave bail for his appearance at court. Rosewell is still locked up. Having been caught in the act, there is reason to believe that these scoundrels will get their deserts, and we hope they may have justice meted out to them, in the fullest measure, so that their fate may be a warning to other evil doers. Such men are fit for no place short of the Penitentiary, and the sooner they get there the better for the community.

United States District Court.

Before Hon. Wilson McCandless.

Thursday, July 25.—District Attorney Carnahan filed a libel against forty gallons of whisky, owned by Joseph and Ferdinand Buger, residents of Centre county. The whisky was seized by the Collector of the Eighteenth District, for non-payment of the revenue tax. A monition was ordered to be issued, and made returnable on the 15th of August.

Mr. Carnahan also filed a libel against the distillery and twenty-seven barrels of whisky, owned by James W. Robeson, of Fulton county. The distillery was seized on the 24th of June, by the Collector of the Sixteenth District, for non-payment of revenue tax. A citation was ordered to issue to the owner, and was made returnable on the 15th of August.

To-morrow was fixed as the time for hearing objections to the Commissioner's report in the case of P. Shrove et al vs. the steamboat Forest City et al.

The petition, in bankruptcy, of Mr. L. Helfenstein, of Shamokin, Northumberland county, was presented.

INTERNAL REVENUE CASES.

Ordered: That in all cases arising under the Internal Revenue Laws, where an answer is filed responsive to, the libel and answer shall form an issue, which shall be tried by jury, without further notice, at the next regular or special session of the court after the answer is filed. Per curiam.

A Meeting of Bachelors took place in Oil City Wednesday evening, at the Jones House, for the purpose of making arrangements for a bachelors' party. The evening was consumed in discussing the propriety of inviting ladies to the party.

Cholera Morbus.

All are liable to an attack from this disease, and a good medicinal preparation will be found quite handy to have in the house for emergencies. The Columbus, O. Statesman gives the following:

Having used the following most successfully while in the army, and using it when occasion requires in our family now, we know it to be a reliable remedy for cholera, cholera morbus and the like, and can therefore recommend it: Take of spirits camphor 1 ounce; tincture of laudanum, 1 ounce; tincture capsicum, 1 ounce; and tincture rhubarb 1 ounce, and mix them together. Whenever in pain or cramped, take ten drops of the mixture on sugar. If the attack be severe, the dose may be increased to twenty-five drops. Above all, keep quiet, and your cure is certain.

Gold Excitement.—There is considerable excitement in Scranton, Pa., about the discovery of gold there. One specimen of Quartz that was tested contained at the rate of $480 per ton. Other samples were also tested. The samples were taken from a tract of land in Nicholson township, on the line of the Delaware and Lackawana Railroad, Wyoming county, and some 1,200 acres of it, supposed to contain gold-producing quartz, has been leased by a Company, whose intention it is to work their claim with considerable force.

Which so disfigure the appearance, PURGING the evil effects of mercury and removing all taints, the remnants of DISEASES, hereditary or otherwise, and is taken by ADULTS and CHILDREN with perfect safety.

TWO TABLE SPOONFULS of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, July 25, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 139⅝; Eighty-one bonds, 110¼; Five Twenties, 1862, 111⅜; Five Twenties, 1864 109⅛; Five Twenties, 1865, 109⅛; Consols, 108⅝; Seven Thirties, 107⅝@107⅜; Ten Forties, 102⅝. Stocks—Erie Railroad, 74½; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 93¾; Chicago and Rock Island, 103⅜; Chicago and Northwestern, 47½; Chicago and Northwestern preferred, 73; Fort Wayne Railroad, 106¼; Michigan Southern Railroad, 81¾; New York Central, 110¼; Reading, 108⅜; Western Union Telegraph Company, 48¾. Mining shares—Corydon, 1,70; Quartz Hill, 2,05; Gregory, 6.85; Smith & Paramalee, 5,70; Quicksilver, 34⅝.

Gold opened at 139¼, but at noon advanced to 139⅜@139¾, and closed at 139⅝@139¾. The decline was due to a report that the Government was a free seller, which afterwards was contradicted, and the quotations were advanced again. There is less firmness in securities, and bonds have declined from ⅛ to ⅜ per cent., with but little inquiry. Large holders have a desire to part with their securities at present high quotations in the hope of replacing them at considerably lower rates by October next, when money will be needed for moving the incoming crops. The share market is still higher to-day, but it is not a steady rise caused by an investment demand; it is, on the contrary, exhibiting all the signs of a forced upward movement by cliques trying to prices as high as possible in order to be enabled to sell just a shade below the regular quotations; very few could save themselves last fall when prices began to yield, and it will be more difficult this time. Speculators were taught a lesson which they will not likely forget when found in the same situation again. Mining shares are dull, but quotations are well sustained. Local money market is becoming easier. The movements in oil should cause a great addition to our available funds.

Mr. W. J. Palmer, Treasurer of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, announces that the interest in gold on the first mortgage bonds, eastern division, will be payable at the banking house of Dabney, Morgan & Co., New York, on and after August first.

Closing quotations received by James T. Brady:

Dec. Compounds, 1864	117½

—The July quarterly statements of the National Banks are all in, and the Comptroller has published his abstract thereof. An analysis of the figures gives some interesting facts. The items which can be legitimately counted as a portion of the reserve required to be kept on hand show an average of full 3 per cent. of the amount of circulation and deposits, which is considerably in excess of the legal requirements. The banks hold $9,602,000 in specie, as against $10,400,000 in April. The amount of assets bearing interest is $1,150,000,000, out of a total of $1,491,000,000. The bonds deposited to secure United States deposits and the deposits of disbursing officers are $8,000,000 in excess of the deposits. The surplus and undivided profits are about equal to one-fourth of the capital stock.

—Over eighty millions of compound interest notes mature in 1867. The accumulated interest upon these will amount to nearly fourteen millions. Interest grows rapidly. In estimating the present value of a national bank stock from the figures given in the quarterly or semi annual return, one often forgets to take into account the interest due on the large amount of compounds and United States bonds held.

The compound interest notes which are now soon to become an institution of the past were issued under the acts of March 3, 1863, and June 30, 1864. Their denominations were $10, 20, 50s, 100s, 500s, 1000s. At date of the last statement there were outstanding of all sorts of these compounds $139,000,290. September 30, 1866, the compounds outstanding amounted to over two hundred millions.

—Dull as business is at New York, still the following aggregates of the leading items of the bank movement there at the close of last week seem enormous. The loans amounted to $249,681,255, the deposits to $193,434,952, the legal tenders to $73,441,301, the circulation to $33,574,548, and the specie to $11,197,700. The clearings for the week reached the very large amount of $491,830,461, and the balances for the same time footed $20,507,083. The Park Bank held an average of deposits all the week of $17,134,348, the Fourth National, $13,000,544, and the Central National, $12,858,605.

—It is now understood that the Treasury has determined, and wisely, to pay the compound notes maturing in August, reserving the three per cent. certificates until the time when, from the sales of long bonds, customs duties, and internal taxes, the currency debt cannot be paid as it matures. Congress, that often apologizes for non-contraction with the Secretary, is now out of the way, and the sooner the long bonds and the purchase of 7-30 notes is resumed the better it will be for the solvent portion of the people and for the Treasury. While Wall street is in a ferment, and call loans go begging at low rates, is the Secretary's opportunity to force the payment of compounds, and the funding of the debt falling due in June and July 1868. The policy would intensify the pressure impending when the crops are moved but it would be of a healthy character, forcing as it would the crop to immediate sale, instead of remaining the foot-ball of speculators, as they would do under an easy money market. The road to specie payment was never more clear than at present, and nothing but culpable timidity in the administration of the finances can prevent a fall in gold, accompanied by a steady disappearance of the irredeemable paper money under which the country suffers. No man ever held the Treasury Department who equals Mr. McCulloch in his knowledge of the financial evils under which all business labors, and of their remedy. It only remains to be seen whether he has the courage to use the power at his command.—New York Tribune.

CATTLE.

There was an unusually big run of cattle this week, and with a supply fully up to the demand, the market, compared with last week, ruled weak, and prices, if anything, a shade lower. The operations in stock cattle were unusually large this week, larger than during any preceding week this season, there being quite a number of stock buyers in attendance from the eastern part of the State, mainly from Lancaster and adjoining counties. For this particular grade of stock prices ranged from 5 to 6½c, according to quality and condition. There was also a good supply of prime fat cattle, and compared with last week, prices ruled fully a quarter of a cent lower, ranging from 8 to 8.30, and several droves of very good fat cattle changed hands at from 7½ to 7¾c. There was a very good attendance of eastern buyers this week, but owing to unfavorable advices from that section, they were very "bearish" in their demeanor, and only bought when they could do so at the decline already noted.

SHEEP.

In the early part of the week, owing to the diminished arrivals, the market was firm at an advance of from ¼ to ½ a cent, but since then the arrivals have increased considerably, and yesterday and to-day, the tendency, if anything, was downward. We now quote at 4½ to 5¾ gross, for fair to prime fat mutton sheep and 3¼ to 4c for inferior. Lambs sold in the Allegheny market this week at $2 to $3,50 per head.

HOGS

There has been a fair business done in this class of stock this week, but to-day, under the influence of adverse eastern reports, the market was a little weak and buyers were asking for concessions. Prices, however, have undergone little or no change, ranging from 7 to 7 87½, for common to extra prime heavy averages—but very few sold at the outside quotation.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, July 25, 1866.

The general markets are less active, and with a perceptible abatement in the demand for most of the leading articles of trade, prices generally are weak, with a dropping tendency, though really, there are no changes worthy of special notice.

GROCERIES—The market, compared with last week, is less active, and Coffee and Sugars are a little weak, under the influence of the decline in gold. In other respects, there are no changes worthy of special notice. We now quote as follows: Sugars—Crushed, 18c; "A" Coffee, 17c; "B" Coffee, 16½c; "C" Extra, 16¼c; Cuba, 12¾@13½; Porto Rico, 13¾@14c. Molasses—New Orleans, 90c; Porto Rico, 75c. Coffee—fair Rio, 23½c; prime, 25½c; choice, 26½c. Rice—Rangoon, 10½c; Carolina, 13c. Spices—Pepper, (in grain) 38c; Allspice, 34c; Cassia, 70c; Nutmegs, $1½; Cloves, 45c. Concentrated Lye, $8,50.

GRAIN—Nothing doing in Wheat, as yet, though we expect to be able to report sales of new crop before long. Oats a little weak and a fraction lower; sales of 3 cars at 85c; 800 bush at 85c, and 1 car load, to arrive, at 75c. Corn is quiet but firm, with small sales, in store, at $1@1.10. Rye is in better demand and a shade higher; sale of 1 car at $1,35, and we also heard of a sale at $1,40. No movement in Barley.

FLOUR—The market is less active and a little weak, and, if anything, prices are a shade lower, though, in reality, the change, as yet, is not perceptible. Choice Spring wheat is quoted at $11,50@12c, and fancy brands at $15@16. Rye Flour, $8,25@8,50. Sales of new Ohio Winter Wheat, to arrive, at $12.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm and tending upward; we quote at 13¼@13½ for Shoulders; 15@15½c for Ribbed, 16c for Clear Sides; 21½@22c for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is dull at 13c for prime kettle rendered. Mess Pork, $25@25 25, and Dried Beef 24@25c.

POTATOES—Firm and in demand but unchanged; sales of new at $4,25@4,50 per barrel—mostly at $4 50.

GREEN APPLES—Scarce, and in active demand; may be quoted at $5@7 per barrel, as to quality.

BUTTER—Is quiet and unchanged. Small sales of prime fresh at 15@16c. Common packed is dull, and hard to sell at any price.

CHEESE—Is steady, with regular sales at 13@14c, as to quality.

HAY—Is quiet and unchanged—sales of new crop at $17@20 per ton.

OIL—Lard Oil is firm and unchanged—85c for No. 2, and $1,05 for No. 1.

SEEDS—We can report small sales of Flaxseed at $2 80. Nothing doing in Clover or Timothy Seeds, and but little offering.

EGGS—The demand seems to be subsiding somewhat, and the market is dull and dropping—12c was the ruling price to-day for fresh packed.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, July 25, 1867.

CRUDE—The market was less active to-day, the sales, in the aggregate, although fair, falling considerably below those of Tuesday or Wednesday, and if the operations reported can be taken as a fair criterion, prices are off from one-half to one cent per gallon. For example, spot oil sold to-day at 12½c, against 12¾@13c yesterday, and "first water" sold at 11½c, against 12@14½c yesterday. We are unable to account for this apparent "break down," although it may be that reports circulated by the "bears" derogatory to the standing of a prominent eastern firm had something to do with it, and we here take occasion to state that we have pretty good authority for saying that there is no foundation in fact for said rumor; and the probability is that it was circulated for effect. Sales were:

3000 bbls, first water	11½c
3000 " first bulk rise—buyer	11⅝c
3000 " " "	11⅝c
3000 " " "	11⅝c
4000 " 1500 from Sept. to Dec.	11⅝c
5000 " September to December	11¾c
1000 " on spot—in tank	14⅛c

REFINED—The market for bonded oil is quiet and steady, and the principal reason for the small sales is the fact that there are but few sellers at present quotations. An evening cotemporary contained a communication yesterday in which the author attributes the recent advance to the manipulations of brokers, and advises "outsiders" to "stand from under." We should not be surprised but what the author of that article is a "short seller," and he would like to get out from under himself. Sales were: 500 for July, buyer's option, at 33½c; 4000, 1000 each month from September to December, at 32½c, and 1000 for September, at 31c.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—Dry Goods; some styles of Cotton Goods, which have ruled relatively high through the season, have finally reduced in price—such as New York Mills Bleached Muslins, which are 5c lower, and now sell at 35c a yard; also, the Amoskeag Ticking, which was 1 to 6c off the ACA brand, now selling down to 40c, and the A at 33c. Other styles of Cottons, however, hold their prices pretty well in season with the raw staple. The best Brown Sheetings at 17@18c, and Prints of the leading makes 15@16c for 64 square. Cloths; Fancy Woolens selling more rapidly, but still slow and of hard sale; still the market for the sale of all classes of Goods partakes of a buoyant feeling in anticipation of a lively trade in August and September.

The Future of Wheat.

There is nothing of moment doing in the wheat market. New winter wheat is daily being received, to the extent of a few car loads, and these are sold to the city millers, who are running from hand to mouth. Spring wheat is very dull, and for present delivery we hear of no transactions beyond car loads for immediate use. There is very little disposition on the part of speculators to operate for future delivery, though some adventurous contracts for No. 2 spring were made to-day at $1.55 for August, and $1.50 for early September delivery—sellers' option. The prospects for an abundant crop were never better, and, notwithstanding that the new harvest will come upon the heels of an exhausted supply, there is no confidence in the stability of present prices, or even prices approximating to them.—Chicago Tribune.

RIVER NEWS.

A new ferry boat, the Louise, has been completed at Wheeling for New Orleans.

Advices from Alexandria, La., say the Kerrigan crevasse was stopped on Friday, and the water in our town has fast receded ever since. The town proper is once more dry, with the exception of the holes made by the current of the river, which are still full of water. The damage to the streets has been considerable, and our councilmen will again have to devise ways and means to put them in repair.

The Louisville Journal of Monday says the contractors have now about forty men employed in getting ready for the heavy mason work on the bridge abutments. The beds of two piers have been excavated, one or two derricks put up, and a railroad track for the hauling of the rock has been laid. The contractors advertise for more men, and probably the vigorous prosecution of the work will soon commence.

It is reported that the Spray will enter the Evansville and Cairo trade next week as an independent low water packet. We presume the regular packets will make it as interesting as possible to the Spray and her officers.

The Democrat asserts that St. Louis will shortly control about all the river commerce of the great river. Arrangements will shortly be completed at this fountain head, by which all needful accommodations will be furnished in the steamboat line to all shippers and travelers on the Lower Mississippi.

The Cincinnati Gazette says: Although Louisville is at the head of low water navigation, the combined dry weather and shrinking river is gradually restricting its claims, and we may, says the Courier, in another week be cut off as well as Cincinnati.

The St. Louis Republican, in a long commendatory editorial relative to Capt. DeHaven's model boats says: His plans are endorsed by scientific and practical men, to whom they have been submitted, among them Prof. Fontaine, of European celebrity; Prof. John A. West, a well known mathematician; John Lithebury, Morton & Startzman, C. W. Smith of the Niles Iron Works; Moore & Sons, of the Cincinnati Locomotive Works; B. B. Magrath, of the United States Navy; W. Nack, of the New Orleans and Matamoros Steamship Line; J. O. D. Bremond, Robt. S. Kirke, engineer, and others.

The New Orleans papers of Saturday, the 20th, says: "Our latest advices from above report all of the rivers falling. Steamboats report fine crops up Red river, out on the hills, away from high water. This is indeed cheering news for an impoverished country, very much in need of breadstuffs. The business on the landing remains dull, and although we had quite a large number of arrivals during the day, they brought only skeletons of a load. Steamboatmen are greatly exercised about the times, and well they may be, for never in the commercial history of the past has business been so dull or so unprofitable as it is at the present time."

ST. LOUIS, July 23.—The freshet from the Upper Mississippi is expected to raise the river here no more than forty inches. The Schuyler and Pekin will withdraw from the Illinois; smaller boats will take their places. The Octavia is to run in the Missouri against the Clara. There is a strong determination to run out the Miami packet line. John Carlisle, an old steamboatman, died near Bunker Hill, Illinois, Saturday. He built the Marshall Ney in 1832, and ran her between Louisville and New Orleans, commanded by Chas. Belcher.

OMAHA, July 20.—The Abeona, from Fort Benton on the 7th, arrived this morning. In port: Benton, Antelope, Guidon, Gallatin, Tacony and Agnes. She met the Big Horn and Luella at Eagle Creek on the 7th; Lily at Fort Hunter; Viola Belle and Ida Fulton above Mudstand; Nymph No. 2 below, on the 8th; Silver Lake and Richmond below Milk river on the 11th. The mountain tops were yet covered with snow. Antelope left Fort Benton on the 8th and passed down this morning. She was fired into by the Indians below Fort Buford. No one was hurt. The Stonewall, from St. Louis, arrived last night, and returns to-
